

Are you a scientist or technician working in a core research facility? Would you like to visit another core facility to learn a new technique?

EMBO Core Facility Fellowships

fund international training exchanges of up to one month between core research facilities. These fellowships facilitate the transfer of technology and expertise between core facilities that provide services to research institutions and universities, promoting excellence in the life sciences.

For detailed application guidelines, please visit embo.org

EMBO programmes and activities are funded by

EMBC